CATARRH! SAVED FROM DEATH! READ!

A CARD.

New York, March 9, 1574.

To all suffering from that horrible duscase, "Catarrh," I wish to say, if you would be radically cured, steadily use the preparations of Dr. James P. Campbell, of 65 Fullon street. Eight years ago there were no two greater sufferers from this loathsome affiliction than myself and Mr. Oscar Andrews, formerly of Lanesville. Mass, now of 31 South street. We both commenced using Dr. Campbell's preparations at the same time. For myself I have no heefstaion in saying that to the "persistent use" of these remedies "I owe my life," for prior to their use I had a deep seated cough, constant "dropping" and throat irritation, and was very sick in many other ways, and every physician I consulted pronounced me incurable from consumption. The fact that eight years have eighsed, and that to-day I am, and have been for years, a "well man," is the best evidence that can be offered as to the rare merit of Dr. Campbell's invaluable preparations.

WILLIAM P. DAVIS,

Proprietor Davis House, Gloucester, Mass.

New York, Feb. 11, 1874.

For seven years I suffered acutely from chronic catarrh, which gradually extended to my throat and lungs, causing incessant hawking and profuse bloody expectoration, together with "lumps" of viscid and offensive mucus. Ultimately the hearing of my right ear became serious, "incessed, according to the particle of the other of the particle of the other of the particle of the other of the particle of th
